

A CATERING TRADITION

Everyone knows about Moonlite's mouth-watering barbecue and their famous buffet. What many may not realize is that Moonlite also features an extensive catering department, where they've provided the fare for countless Owensboro weddings since the 70's. And if you're thinking that all they do is barbecue, you probably haven't experienced a Moonlite-catered event.

MORE THAN BBQ

Catering Manager Jeanie Bosley Heath returned from college to manage the catering division of the family business in 1985. Under the management of Heath, along with Mike Clark, Moonlite's customized catering has expanded well beyond the barbecued mutton that made them famous. Moonlite is unique in the fact that they can custom design any menu imaginable! For Heath and her staff, the distinct qualities of each wedding are what make the celebration stand out. "Every wedding is special. And we are always thrilled to be a part of the celebration."

A MENU FOR ANY TASTE AND BUDGET

From a fun barbecue dinner to an elegant plated dinner, Moonlite has you covered, no matter your budget or preferences. The bride often has an idea of what she wants and what her budget will allow.

Heath enjoys meeting with the bride in person for inspiration before she suggests a particular menu. Whether it is casual, elegant, simple or "over the top", plated or buffet, china or disposable, Moonlite aims to please by personalizing the experience for each and every wedding party. Their offerings range from a wide variety of tasty hors d'oeuvres to prime rib and grilled salmon. Says Heath, "As we talk I get excited and want to make sure they have wonderful memories of the reception." As a tip, Heath adds that choice of venue is an important consideration when planning a menu to determine what will and won't work.

FULL-SERVICE CATERING

In addition to their fabulous food, Moonlite's catering division also offers full-service catering, including servers, linens, and dishes. And if they do not offer a particular service, Moonlite is happy to recommend a trusted local vendor. In all they do, Moonlite prides themselves on their ability to please their customers, no matter what the request. Planning a wedding outside of town, but still want a taste of Owensboro? Moonlite can cater anywhere!

"OUR FAMILY WANTS TO COOK FOR YOURS!"

Moonlite understands that your wedding celebration is one of the most important meals you will ever plan. For that special day, Moonlite's unparalleled personal service from beginning to end ensures that everything is perfect. They truly mean it when they say, "Our family wants to cook for yours!"
